IMPROVEMENTS

READ ONLY ACCESS

Editors now have full read-only access to all configurations and settings of the poll, even if answer records have already been received.

PROGRESS BAR

The color of the progress bar can now be defined by the editor. Additionally there is the possibility not to display the progress bar. This is recommended when integrating a quiz directly into a page together with other widgets.

CONFIGURATION OF COLORS

Color configuration is now simplified for editors by a new color selection tool.

The screenshot displays a settings menu with the following options:

- Settings | Start page | Questions | Evaluation | Data/Export
- Save
- Color for start page and navigation buttons (with a color selection tool)
- Color for reply buttons, evaluations & progress bar (with a color selection tool)
- Anonymous submission ? (toggle)
- Evaluation charts visible for participants ? (toggle)
- Progress bar visible for participants ? (toggle) - This option is highlighted with a red box.
- Testmode ? (toggle)

The color selection tool for the highlighted option shows a color gradient, a color wheel, and a hex code input field containing `#e20074`.

BUGFIXES

CUTTING OF PICTURES

Pictures that are included in the poll on the start page or for questions were not uniformly displayed in a 16:9 format until now, as indicated in the tooltip.

We have corrected this bug. Now all pictures are displayed consistently in 16:9 format.

PRESENTATION OF THE QUESTIONS ON EVALUATION PAGES

On evaluation pages in the poll the user was shown the current results of the poll - if activated. Any HTML formatting of the questions was also transferred here, so that errors occurred in the presentation for the user. We have corrected this. The presentation is now standardized without any HTML formatting.
